

Sports

Michael Maguire
Vicente
Fighting
Night
St. Mary's boxers in state series with Lebanon and over fish
and Knight.
Maguire was the boxer of the title.

Michael Maguire, Vicente, Fighting Night, St. Mary's boxers in state series with Lebanon and over fish and Knight. Maguire was the boxer of the title.

Zips' home stays sweet

By Tom Reed
Senior Staff Writer

St. Vincent's St. Mary basketball team physician Dr. Michael Maguire is a busy call center when he's not at work, serving as a lead for time zones in how he performs.

Maguire's schedule is limited at the military hospital in Afghanistan, but "Doc Mag" can always count on e-mails from 3- to 4-M players, coaches, and administrators.

The messages offer encouragement and praise. Sometimes they seek advice on treating the bumps, strains and sprains associated with athletic injuries.

It is a welcomed diversion from the medical procedures

Cavaliers center Zydrunas Ilgauskas hangs from the air after scoring a basket during the first half of Wednesday's home game, despite a block attempt by the Hornets' P.J. Brown (right).

By Brian Westbrook
Senior Staff Writer

NEW ORLEANS—The Cavaliers of the future can only hope to mirror the Hornets of the present after New Orleans' 107 win Wednesday night.

The team poses for their team photo.

It took, though, the New Orleans area is a positive in both categories. The Hornets, led by the team now trying to rally the Cavaliers, are one of the top teams in the NBA. The Cavaliers, well, aren't.

Brian Westbrook might be the league's best point man and LeBron James, well, isn't yet.

PHOTO BY PHILIP HARRIS

Is clock ticking on Holcomb as starting QB?

Browns coach claims his confidence unwavering, but fans want production

By Matt Hoenes
Senior Staff Writer

BREDA—Kyle Holcomb is being what it's like to walk in the shoes of a starting quarterback.

He lived up to his billing on this evening, looking to be in lead control, his own opinion of the Browns' offense in mind.

Hoenes said he is not sure if he has any of the "Carver" defense. He has only seen one of its better performances, a 20-17 win over the Colts last week.

Hoenes said he was surprised to see Holcomb in his position. "He's moved into a starting role."

Hoenes said he is not sure if he has any of the "Carver" defense. He has only seen one of its better performances, a 20-17 win over the Colts last week.

Hoenes said he was surprised to see Holcomb in his position. "He's moved into a starting role."

Alton pincer midfielder Alex Odell handles Rutgers goalkeeper Laboe Anon but misses on his shot Tuesday night at Leo Jackson Field.

Happy to give extra thanks

St. V-M team doctor gains new perspective serving in war-torn Afghanistan

By Tom Reed
Senior Staff Writer

St. Vincent's St. Mary basketball team physician Dr. Michael Maguire is a busy call center when he's not at work, serving as a lead for time zones in how he performs.

Maguire's schedule is limited at the military hospital in Afghanistan, but "Doc Mag" can always count on e-mails from 3- to 4-M players, coaches, and administrators.

The messages offer encouragement and praise. Sometimes they seek advice on treating the bumps, strains and sprains associated with athletic injuries.

It is a welcomed diversion from the medical procedures

Maguire is a captain in the U.S. Army Medical Department and one of two orthopedic surgeons working in the digital Combat Support Hospital in Iraq.

The Army courier was called to serve duty in August and hopes to be home by mid-December.

People see Doctor CS

Cavaliers center Zydrunas Ilgauskas hangs from the air after scoring a basket during the first half of Wednesday's home game, despite a block attempt by the Hornets' P.J. Brown (right).

By Brian Westbrook
Senior Staff Writer

NEW ORLEANS—The Cavaliers of the future can only hope to mirror the Hornets of the present after New Orleans' 107 win Wednesday night.

The team poses for their team photo.

It took, though, the New Orleans area is a positive in both categories. The Hornets, led by the team now trying to rally the Cavaliers, are one of the top teams in the NBA. The Cavaliers, well, aren't.

Brian Westbrook might be the league's best point man and LeBron James, well, isn't yet.

Davis, Hornets are too much for Cavaliers

Guard scores 26 points, eight assists. Cleveland's road losing streak now 30

By Brian Westbrook
Senior Staff Writer

CLEVELAND—It was a tough night for the Cavaliers as they were swept by the Hornets in their second straight road game.

Davis scored 26 points and eight assists.

The Cavaliers' road losing streak now stands at 30 games.

By Brian Westbrook
Senior Staff Writer

CLEVELAND—It was a tough night for the Cavaliers as they were swept by the Hornets in their second straight road game.

Davis scored 26 points and eight assists.

The Cavaliers' road losing streak now stands at 30 games.

By Brian Westbrook
Senior Staff Writer

CLEVELAND—It was a tough night for the Cavaliers as they were swept by the Hornets in their second straight road game.

Davis scored 26 points and eight assists.

The Cavaliers' road losing streak now stands at 30 games.

Doctor Maguire to give extra thanks

Serving in Afghanistan gives new perspective

Continued from Page C1

Davis said he is not sure if he has any of the "Carver" defense. He has only seen one of its better performances, a 20-17 win over the Colts last week.

Hoenes said he was surprised to see Holcomb in his position. "He's moved into a starting role."

Hoenes said he is not sure if he has any of the "Carver" defense. He has only seen one of its better performances, a 20-17 win over the Colts last week.

Hoenes said he was surprised to see Holcomb in his position. "He's moved into a starting role."

Home for holiday

Even though the Cavaliers are in the midst of a multi-game road trip, St. Vincent's basketball team is home for Christmas Day.

Positive thinking

St. Vincent's basketball team is looking for positive thinking during its road trip.

Cavaliers

Read losing streak extended to 30 games

Continued from Page C1

Cavaliers

Read losing streak extended to 30 games

Continued from Page C1

Cavaliers

Read losing streak extended to 30 games

Continued from Page C1

Cavaliers

Read losing streak extended to 30 games

Continued from Page C1

Cavaliers

Read losing streak extended to 30 games

Continued from Page C1

Doctor Maguire to give extra thanks

Serving in Afghanistan gives new perspective

Continued from Page C1

Davis said he is not sure if he has any of the "Carver" defense. He has only seen one of its better performances, a 20-17 win over the Colts last week.

Hoenes said he was surprised to see Holcomb in his position. "He's moved into a starting role."

Hoenes said he is not sure if he has any of the "Carver" defense. He has only seen one of its better performances, a 20-17 win over the Colts last week.

Hoenes said he was surprised to see Holcomb in his position. "He's moved into a starting role."

Home for holiday

Even though the Cavaliers are in the midst of a multi-game road trip, St. Vincent's basketball team is home for Christmas Day.

Positive thinking

St. Vincent's basketball team is looking for positive thinking during its road trip.

Cavaliers

Read losing streak extended to 30 games

Continued from Page C1

Cavaliers

Read losing streak extended to 30 games

Continued from Page C1

Cavaliers

Read losing streak extended to 30 games

Continued from Page C1

Cavaliers

Read losing streak extended to 30 games

Continued from Page C1

Cavaliers

Read losing streak extended to 30 games

Continued from Page C1

St. Vincent's St. Mary team doctor Michael Maguire (above) has a different team this year at a hospital in Afghanistan. Maguire, a Ravens graduate, has developed a special affection (top) for the children.

St. Vincent's St. Mary team doctor Michael Maguire (above) has a different team this year at a hospital in Afghanistan. Maguire, a Ravens graduate, has developed a special affection (top) for the children.

By Tom Reed
Senior Staff Writer

St. Vincent's St. Mary basketball team physician Dr. Michael Maguire is a busy call center when he's not at work, serving as a lead for time zones in how he performs.

Maguire's schedule is limited at the military hospital in Afghanistan, but "Doc Mag" can always count on e-mails from 3- to 4-M players, coaches, and administrators.

The messages offer encouragement and praise. Sometimes they seek advice on treating the bumps, strains and sprains associated with athletic injuries.

It is a welcomed diversion from the medical procedures

Navigation around an absolute home, to Ohio.com and other sites. The website is at http://www.ohio.com

CABERT & LOUNGE • VIDEO
1638 W. 12th St. • Columbus, OH 43211
Tel: 614-233-9444

NEW YORK'S BEST
Tel: 212-279-2333

NEW YORK'S BEST
Tel: 212-279-2333

NEW YORK'S BEST
Tel: 212-279-2333